About MGM

The Montgomery Regional Airport has an impressive history that can literally trace its roots to the birth of aviation when the Wright Brothers established a civilian flight school in Montgomery in 1910. Today, the Montgomery Regional Airport (MGM), is a Part 139 certified public use facility serving the city of Montgomery, Alabama's capital. The airport has an air service influence area of approximately 600,000 people, covering a broad region of more than 20 counties in central Alabama. The airport occupies over 2,000 acres of land and has two runways.

Scheduled commercial air service is currently provided by American Airlines with nonstop service to Charlotte (CLT), Dallas (DFW) and Washington, DC (DCA); Delta Air Lines with nonstop service to Atlanta (ATL); and, Via Airlines with seasonal, less-than-daily service to Orlando (SFB). MGM served 304,430 total passengers in 2017 and averaged 196 daily aircraft operations. Additional significant operators at the airport include one FBO, Montgomery Aviation and the 187th Fighter Wing, recently selected as the new home of the F-35 Joint Strike Fighter.

Montgomery offers a wide variety of family-focused attractions including, Montgomery Biscuits AA minor league baseball; Camellia Bowl college football classic; world class Alabama Shakespeare Festival; Montgomery Museum of Fine Arts; Rosa Parks Museum and other historical venues; a bustling downtown with night life, concerts, dining, boating on the Alabama River; numerous youth sports activities; and a wide variety of civic and charitable events.
